Goal

This continuing education program focuses on the improvement of maternal and infant health through the delivery of risk-appropriate high-quality nutrition services. It is designed for dietitians, nutritionists, certified nurse midwives, registered nurses and nurse practitioners, physicians and public health professionals who serve preconceptual, pregnant, postpartum and breastfeeding women.

Objectives

- ♥ Describe ways that appropriate nutrition services can improve pregnancy outcomes.
- ♥ Describe the effect of maternal eating behaviors on birth outcomes and infant health status and development.
- ♥ Identify characteristics of model programs and counseling approaches for maternal and infant nutritional health.

The Centers for Public Health Education and Outreach (CPHEO), University of Minnesota School of Public Health, will award a certificate of attendance for 9 contact hours of professional continuing education to program participants. CPHEO maintains permanent records of all continuing education program activities.

This program has also been approved for 9 CPEs from the commission on Dietetic Registration (CDR), the credentialing agency for the American Dietetic Association.
